This rule as it currently exists is only effective when the deposing attorney, usually a Plaintiff's attorney, is completely devoted to getting the information, has prepared for hours, and has waded through decoy witnesses in order to find someone at the company who is willing to take responsibility as a spokesperson for the company. I have never found it easy to have a corporate representative appear and give testimony for a corporation. Anything which makes it more difficult to learn a corporate mindset simply denies justice to more people trying to get justice.
