Comments:

I write in my personal capacity to oppose Proposed Federal Rule of Appellate Procedure 32.1. The rule would unduly burden attorneys and litigants with the need to review more court opinions than is necessary for justice.

The rule would undermine not only the goal of judicial efficiency, but also the goal of clarity in the law. If a court does not think its own opinion suitable for citation, no jurist should consider it.

Respectfully submitted, Damon Katz, Massachusetts BBO#567315
