Public Comment: Judicial Code of Conduct

Thank you for your immediate attention to this matter:

I am sure many will have many comments on your revisiting of Code and Conduct Rules for judges but little is more important to me right now than the fact that Supreme Court justices are not bound by a code of conduct with an ethics review oversight system in place and the only body that can investigate Supreme Court justices for alleged misconduct is Congress.

I strongly encourage you to pause your work and to rectify this an issue that I trust is not new to you and that also has a history of pros and cons ready and waiting for review.
